This is the best I could do. There aren't very many missing. I think the main trouble is that you didn't realize that most of them were self-explanatory in that the (-) following the name referred to the symbol before it-- signed letter from 21 Republican Congressmen-- signed House Minority report---signed silver letter, etc. The only time a symbol before didn't also get a (-) after was in the case of the members of the Senate Conference of the Minority to whom the adverse report was submitted by Smith. In that case I didn't think they were necessarily subscribing to the report.

I do not have copies of the letter from the 21 Republicans nor the House Minority report, but I believe it is in the Record around 6/23/44 and 3/8/45 respectively. If you have any trouble finding it let me know.
