

MAY 30 1944

Monetary Plan Discussed

There is evidence that considerable progress has been made toward a plan capable of commanding general international acceptance, says the "Review" of Bank of Nova Scotia, published today, discussing the draft plan for an international monetary fund. Since gold would be the international standard of value, the editors say, "there provisions are obviously of great importance to a gold-producing country like Canada."