

Employee to devote entire time.

Shall devote his entire time and attention and his best energies and abilities to the performance of such duties as may be assigned to him by the company, and shall serve the company faithfully and diligently and use his (or her) utmost endeavors to promote the interest of the company, and shall at all times be subject to the direction and control of the company, and shall do such work and perform such services at such times and places and of such a nature as the company may direct in connection with its business.

(From Pollak v. Danbury Mfg. Co., 103 Conn. 553, 131 Atl. 426.