Delayed completion of Article IV consultations

Tables 1 and 2 list member countries for which the period for the completion of the next Article IV consultation has exceeded, or is likely to exceed, the applicable consultation cycle.¹ Member countries added to the list for September 2008, or for which a notification of further delay beyond the month of September 2008 has become necessary, are highlighted in bold. These member countries are Georgia (expected delay 12 months) as regards member countries with a Fund arrangement; Argentina (postponed), the People's Republic of China (12 months), Slovak Republic (7 months), Denmark (4 months), and Republic of Equatorial Guinea (3 months) as regards other member countries.

The completion of the Article IV consultation with Georgia is now expected in March 2009. The economic implications of the August armed conflict prompted swift negotiations for a Stand-By Arrangement (SBA), which was approved by the Board on September 15, 2008. The Article IV mission is now expected to take place at the time of the second program review scheduled for February. The dates of the Article IV consultation mission to Argentina are being discussed with the authorities but have not yet been determined.

Republic of Equatorial Guinea and Slovak Republic are delayed, respectively, due to: reorganization of the government; and by the authorities' request, pending introduction of the euro on January 1st, 2009. Executive Board considerations of the Article IV consultation with these countries are expected to take place in November 2008, and March 2009, respectively.

¹ The applicable consultation cycle is: (i) for countries where a Fund arrangement was approved since the last Article IV consultation, the cycle stipulated by the July 15, 2002 decision on Article IV consultation cycles for program countries, as amended; (ii) for other countries, the cycle specified at the time of the last consultation, including the 3-month grace period where applicable. Paragraph 3 of the July 15, 2002 decision on Article IV consultation cycles for program countries, as amended, applies to countries for which an Article IV consultation has not been concluded since the expiration or cancellation of the last Fund arrangement.
